

DS Assignment 2

Battu Varshit
201402029

1. When a user makes a transaction, we can call a function which would send a message with the transaction history to the phone which is also a client connected to the server using threading.
2. RMI handles multiple clients, but we must make the server thread safe. RMI will dispatch multiple threads into a single server object if multiple clients simultaneously make methods call on it. So if your server isn't threadsafe your application will fail.